day. Wayne Porter did a dazzling demonstration of box turning, pyrography and air brushing. It was so good that it carried over to the hands-on on the 23rd. Thanks Wayne, your demonstrations are always fun and informative.

We will be holding club elections at this month's meeting on November 6th. We've had members step-up for most of the positions, but still need volunteers for President and Director.

We had a fun show-and-tell, with Jerry Johnson, Andrew Rothwell, Dave Edwards, and Paul Cote showing off their latest creations.

Thanks to you all.

Frank Miller will be doing this month's demonstration. Frank will start with the history of woodturning, then to the cutting edge, and cover some, how and whys.

He will show techniques for getting a good cut and cleaning up end grain tear out. He will finish up covering cutting air, multi axis, oval turning, off center turning, and then off axis turning. I'm looking forward to this, Frank's demonstrations are always entertaining and educational. Don't miss it.

The Carson High Craft show is coming soon, November 19th and 20th. Contact Wayne Porter with any questions, donations or to volunteer.

This month's meeting is the first Saturday, November 6th. Young at Heart is holding their annual craft fair the following weekend November 12th and 13th. If you're in the area stop by and check it out.

Hands on

We had a good turnout for our hands on at the Community Center with approximately 14 members attending. One of our new members had a great time of learning a bit more about turning. REMEMBER BACK WHEN WE ALL

STARTED ?? It was great that Nik helped him out on the lathe getting started and then Wayne finished up giving great advice and helpful hints. Ken was turning birdhouses and Frank was over explaining some sharpening details and his wife had her wood burning equipment out to show and help members. We actually had 4 wood burning tables set up and a few members took advantage of others expertise on that along with Air Brushing equipment! I can remember back when we had Molly Winton come from Seattle Washington and did a two-day class and demo for our club. A bit of news about Molly, shortly after she was here, she had to sell her lathe and scale way back on burning because of the fumes, thankfully after a year hiatus she bought a new black beauty Lathe and in a new environment she has returned to her passion. I understand she has a top-notch dust free shop at her new home!! Remember Hands on Meetings are for everybody, so if you have a project you need help with or just want to turn a piece of wood and have a bunch of free advice lol come and bring some tools. We usually have three small lathes and of course our Large Laguna will be rolled out.
